Participant Donations at Meal Sites

An update from Dana Pierce, Nutrition Administrator

Congregate meal sites play a vital role in the well-being and quality of life for many older individuals in our communities. These sites provide more than just a nutritious meal; they create an environment for socialization, support, and a sense of belonging along with other activities and nutrition education. However, running these sites comes at a cost and participant donations have a significant impact on their sustainability.

Participant donations are critical for maintaining the high nutritional standards required by the Indiana Division of Aging and help prevent placing new participants on a waiting list.

Many seniors struggle to meet their dietary needs due to reasons such as limited mobility, health issues, or financial constraints. Congregate meal sites ensure that these individuals receive access to well-balanced, healthy meals regularly. By contributing financially to the operations of the meal sites, individuals feel a sense of pride and belonging. They understand they are active participants in maintaining the program and helping their peers. This feeling of self-worth and empowerment can have a positive impact on overall well-being.

Another crucial aspect of participant donations is that they allow meal sites to expand their services and reach more seniors in need. With additional funds, congregate meal sites can organize educational programs, health screenings, and other valuable activities that go beyond the provision of food. These initiatives contribute to the overall enrichment of seniors' lives and promote healthy aging.

Participant donations at senior congregate meal sites ensure the long-term sustainability of these programs. Government funding and grants often fall short, leaving a funding gap that needs to be filled for continued operation. By encouraging participants to contribute, meal sites can remain open and better serve our communities.

Encouraging donations is vital in supporting the well-being and quality of life of our senior population. They help cover the costs of nutritious meals, foster a sense of community, expand services, create a positive impact within the community, and ensure the long-term sustainability of these much-needed programs. If you're interested in donating, you can find donation boxes at your meal site, send in a check to LifeStream headquarters in Yorktown, or make your donation online at lifestreaminc.org/nutrition.

What's Cooking?

Southwestern Quinoa & Egg Breakfast Bowl

Ingredients:

Servings: 4 • Serving Size: 1 breakfast bowl

1/4 cup uncooked quinoa, rinsed and drained

2 medium tomatoes, chopped (about 2 cups)

1 cup no-salt-added frozen corn, thawed

1/2 medium avocado, pitted and diced

1/4 cup chopped green onions

1/2 cup chopped fresh cilantro (optional)

Cooking spray

4 large eggs

1/8 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper

Red hot pepper sauce to taste (optional)

Directions:

Cook the quinoa according to the package directions. Remove from the heat.

Spoon the quinoa into four bowls. Top each with tomatoes, corn, avocado, green onions, and cilantro.

Lightly spray a large skillet with cooking spray. Crack the eggs into the skillet. Sprinkle the salt and pepper over the eggs. Cook, uncovered, over medium-high heat for 3 to 4 minutes, or until the egg whites are set but the yolks are still runny. Using a spatula, carefully transfer one egg sunny side up into each of the bowls. Sprinkle with the hot sauce.

Quick Tips:

Cooking Tip: For a quicker meal, substitute hard-boiled eggs that have been made in advance for the sunny-side-up eggs.

Keep it Healthy: The sodium content of hot sauce varies among products so compare Nutrition Facts labels and choose the option with the lowest sodium.

Spring into Wellness

An update from Gina Harvey, Wellness Educator

Spring is on its way! The temperatures are warming and new buds are starting to appear, inspiring us to open the windows and let the fresh air in. With every passing day, the sun stays out for us to enjoy just a little bit longer. Let this time of year inspire you and try something new to improve your health!

Warmer weather and sunshine can be the perfect motivation to start a daily walking routine. Walking is an easy and convenient way to fit in exercise. The movement not only helps you remain flexible and strong but has other helpful benefits as well. Taking a walk outside gives you an opportunity to get lost in the smells and sounds of nature, letting your mind take a break from your daily stress. Adding in extra movement by walking can help improve your sleep quality too.

Have you missed your fresh garden veggies this winter? Now is the time to start planning for your garden. Growing your own vegetables is easy and doesn't have to take up a lot of space. You can start your seeds indoors now, using recycled bowls or cups with a little potting soil, and place in a windowsill. When your seeds have sprouted and the weather is more consistent (no frost), you can transplant your vegetables to larger pots outdoors or place in the ground. Not only is gardening a great activity, but it is a great cost-saving way to eat healthier.

Are you interested in joining a class on fall prevention, healthy eating, or joining an exercise group? LifeStream's wellness programs are here to help! Outreach Corner

An update from Angie Jenkins, Outreach Coordinator

Did you know that LifeStream is an Area Agency on Aging? Area Agencies on Aging were established by the Federal Older Americans Act in 1965. There are 15 Area Agencies on Aging (AAA) serving 16 planning and service areas throughout Indiana—and LifeStream is the only agency serving two areas!

Core services of AAAs under the Older Americans Act include elder rights, caregiver support, nutrition, health and wellness, and supportive services. AAAs also play an important role in advocacy and community outreach.

AAA offices are a tremendous resource and one of the best places to start for any adult over 60 seeking additional support or services. One of the services offered through AAA is providing education and resources so you can stay connected with your community to maintain your quality of life.

As we move into our busier months, stay connected with the different events that are happening through LifeStream.

Share Your Talents and Passions

An update from Laura Bray, Volunteer Services Administrator

Anything can be turned into beautiful gifts by painters, craftspeople, fabric and yarn artists, and other creative people. Allow your enthusiasm for an artistic or crafty endeavor to benefit others. It's a fact that most of us enjoy our hobbies, so why not share them? These are a few imaginative ways you may get involved with us and make people's lives brighter.

Do you like to draw, paint, or have a gift with words? Would you like to create greeting cards to share with others? Do you like to knit, crochet, or sew? We have many people reach out asking for blankets for comfort and warmth. Do you love to paint on canvas? Artwork always brightens a room and brings joy. There are so many crafts that others would enjoy receiving—handmade soap, crocheted washcloths, scarves, decoupage, ornaments, paper art, jewelry, and birdhouses—the list is endless.

If you would like to share your passion for creating with others and to learn more about volunteer opportunities, please contact Laura Bray, Volunteer Services Administrator, at (765) 808-8827 or lbray@lifestreaminc.org. Together, we can introduce older adults, people with disabilities, and caregivers in East Central Indiana to your love of crafts!
